Man is probably the only animal that finds fun in killing—the only animal that kills other animals for the fun of killing them.

CLARA BARTON.

We doubt whether there is any woman in America or the world entitled to the higher respect and admiration of all good people than Clara Barton, and yet we see that efforts are being made to substitute some other person or persons to the position she has so long and nobly held in the Red Cross movement.

It seems not uncommon that when a man or woman renders distinguished service to the public somebody else almost always stands ready to claim it.

Daniel Webster, just before his death, was refused permission to speak in Faneuil Hall.

Charles Sumner, in his old age, did one of the noblest acts of his whole life in urging that on the reunion of our nation after our civil war, the names of battles won by the north over the south should not stand on the national flags under which both northern and southern soldiers were to march—in return for which he received a vote of censure from both houses of our Massachusetts Legislature, which was not removed until some years after.

After General Grant had so splendidly closed his connection with our armies, somebody wrote a book describing his services as comparatively of little importance. When the General's attention was called to it he said "that he expected to find out some day that he was never in that war at all."

There seem to be plenty of people always ready to steal the honor which belongs to the pioneers, but we do sincerely hope that the old age of Clara Barton may not be made unhappy, and that at some future date one of the proudest monuments at Washington may be erected in memory of this woman who has done more than any other to make the Red Cross known and respected throughout the civilized world.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

THE GREAT ARMY OF MERCY.

FROM ADDRESS TO THE NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION, AT NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE,
BY GEO. T. ANGELL.

There are two kinds of armies in the world—armies of cruelty and armies of mercy.

Of one kind are the armies of war.

For thousands of years they have been marching onto battle-fields for the purpose of destroying human life.

Personally, the individuals composing those armies have had no cause of offence; personally, they might have been friends. Many of them have belonged to the same Christian churches and have been looking forward to an inheritance in the same Heaven.

Yet at the command of politicians they have marched onto battle-fields to kill each other, and the armies which could kill the greater number—pile the battle grounds with the largest heaps of dead and wounded horses and men—have won glorious victories, and costly monuments have been erected to tell future generations what a noble thing it is for Christian men to kill each other in this way.

But within the past few years something new has come onto these battle-fields, and the distant spectator looking over the smoke of the battle has seen floating from the top of some high building on either side a flag different from all the rest—a white flag, with a red cross on it.

What does that mean?

It means another army on that battle-field seeking to save the lives which the others are seeking to destroy—going out with stretchers—bringing in the wounded—binding up the wounds—taking messages to the wives and mothers at home—speaking words of comfort and cheer to the dying.

It is one division of the great army of mercy.

WAR.

THE CHARGE OF THE SIX HUNDRED AT BALAKLAVA.

We have on our table this morning, from the New York Evening Telegram, an account of that terrible charge of six hundred English cavalry to capture a Russian battery, and are sorry the description is too long for our paper, but we take this from it:

"Not a shot was fired by the batteries until we were half way down, and then they suddenly opened fire. Imagine, artillery on three sides pumping grape and canister into a bunch of horsemen, and you can have some idea of the horrible slaughter that was done. At the first volley the air seemed literally filled with legs and arms, and fragments of both men and horses covered the ground for yards around. Great spouts of blood rose high in the air, while the screams of wounded horses added horror to the already horrible situation. Among all this I remember one horse galloping abreast of me, whose side had been furrowed by a bullet, while dragging and bouncing on the ground beside him was the headless corpse of a trooper, his foot caught in the stirrup."

We wish that descriptions like this, of what war really means, could be read in all our over fifty thousand "Bands of Mercy."

ARE WE PAGAN YET, OR CHRISTIAN?

Are we pagan yet, or Christian? Look conditions in the face:

Mars, the god whom still we worship? Mammon in our Ruler's place?

After all our boasted progress, have we reached the nobler race?

Are we pagan yet, or Christian? Do we use as shibboleth

The old watchword of the Roman, or of Him of Nazareth?

Do we preach love's law of mercy or the leaden law of death?

Are we pagan yet, or Christian? Answer by the higher light;

Let the test be by the standards of unchanging truth and right.

Do we worship toward the morning, or the past's warclouded night?

Are we pagan yet, or Christian? Do we rob and overreach?

Do we wrong and slay our brothers 'neath the mask of godly speech?

Sow we seeds of love or hatred? Do we practise what we preach?

Are we pagans yet, or Christians? Tell the truth, whate'er betide.

By our lust, our greed, our conquest, is our Saviour still denied?

By the murder of His brethren is our Lord yet crucified?

THREE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-EIGHT MASSACHUSETTS CITIES AND TOWNS.

We have now established our "Bands of Mercy" in the public and parochial schools of three hundred and twenty-eight Massachusetts cities and towns. The next city in which we are to establish them in all the schools is Cambridge. Our "Band of Mercy" organizer, Mr. A. J. Leach, has been having great success in the cities and towns he has visited.

OUR WESTERN "BAND OF MERCY" ORGANIZER.

Our Western "Band of Mercy" organizer, Mr. Hubbard, has, during the past month, formed 208 "Bands of Mercy" in Columbus, Ohio.

CATTLE AND SHEEP ON THE PLAINS.

A dispatch to The Boston Evening Transcript from Sioux City, Iowa, February 16th, states that in recent storms cattle and sheep to the value of probably twenty millions of dollars have died from the intense cold and starvation.

"The snow crusted over with ice has kept them from getting down to the dried grass, and hundreds of herds have wandered about for weeks, their legs raw and their noses and heads lacerated by the ice. In this condition a large proportion already have been found dead and the rest very weak. The intense cold of the last thirty-six hours has caused immense additional losses."

All this terrible suffering because their owners have thought it better to risk starving their animals to death than to provide them with food and shelter. Are we a Christian people?

If so, how long will it be before we begin to teach with our "Bands of Mercy" and otherwise, humanity in all our schools?

THE CRUELTY OF TRAPS.

Animals caught in the woods, fields, or elsewhere in steel and other traps, and left there sometimes for days, suffer worse than a hundred deaths.

SULPHUR AND THE GRIPPE.

The readers of Our Dumb Animals need not be told that a teaspoonful of sulphur in each stocking or shoe, or hung in a little bag from the neck, may save themselves and their children from the grippe.

FIRE-PROOF CLOTHING.

As our readers know, we have in past issues of this paper several times called attention to the importance of fire-proof clothing for high rooms in hotels and elsewhere, to aid in escaping from burning buildings. We are glad to see in The Boston Evening Transcript of February 16th that such clothing has been now invented to protect the entire body and the face as well, permitting the wearer to breathe without danger. We should like to send a full statement in regard to it to the about twenty thousand newspapers and magazines which receive our paper each month. Will some one familiar with the invention kindly send us such a statement?

HOW TO SECURE AN HONORABLE, USEFUL, ACTIVE AND HAPPY OLD AGE?

The editor of the Young Crusader, of Chicago, asks us to answer the above question, and we reply as follows:

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1903.

Thanking you for your kind favor received, I would say that I know of no better way to secure an honorable, useful, active and happy old age than for every person to endeavor to do all in his or her power to make the world happier and better. The pledge of our over fifty thousand "Bands of Mercy," including probably over two million members, is, "I will try to be kind to all harmless living creatures, and try to protect them from cruel usage." This pledge includes both human beings and those other beings that God has created to depend upon our mercy. I think that every child who is taught to keep this pledge will find it a wonderful power to increase happiness. Every kind act, both to human beings and these dumb creatures, tends to make the doer happier. With kindest wishes,

Yours sincerely,

GEO. T. ANGELL.

ALL WHO SEEK.

All who seek progress in civilization and humanity can accomplish little without a vast increase of humane education in our universities, colleges and schools. Great armies and navies will never bring peace on earth—only wars.

A GOOD LETTER. WE WISH WE HAD A THOUSAND SUCH.

[From Honorable CHARLES A. BARNARD, Judge of the Municipal Court of the Brighton District of the City of Boston.]

BOSTON, Feb. 2, 1903.

MY DEAR MR. ANGELL:

I most gladly send you one hundred dollars for the proposed building for your Societies, which I hope will ere long delight the eyes and gladden the hearts of those who love "kindness, justice and mercy to every living creature." But of one thing you may be assured. You cannot lay its foundations so broad and deep that it will outlast the influence of your grand work in protecting the weak and defenceless, and inspiring others with your own enthusiasm for noble and humane acts.

"And what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

Sincerely yours,

CHARLES A. BARNARD.

We are glad to add to the above that another of our city judges assures us that he has personally drawn wills which will at some future time [but perhaps after we have finished our earthly work] give to our Societies about $100,000, and that recently we have received notice from the executor of the estate of a deceased friend in Illinois that at some future time [after annuities have ended] our Societies will receive between $30,000 and $40,000 from the estate he represents.

A PRIZE OF TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS. THE COMMITTEE TO BE APPOINTED BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR OF MAS- SACHUSETTS AND HIS HONOR THE MAYOR OF BOSTON.

[This prize offer appeared in the Boston daily papers of February 16th and 17th.]

The American Humane Education Society hereby offers a prize of $200 for the best plan of preventing strikes. All plans [signed by fictitious names] must be received at the Society's offices, 19 Milk Street, Boston, on or before July 1, 1903, and with each a sealed letter giving the real name and post office address of the writer, which will not be opened until the decision of the Committee shall be made.

One of the Committee will be nominated by His Excellency John L. Bates, the Governor of Massachusetts, another by His Honor Patrick A. Collins, Mayor of Boston, and a third by the other two.

While we hope that several of the plans will deserve and receive wide publication, a condition of the prize must be that some one of them shall be deemed by a majority of the Committee entitled to publication, and no plan must contain over thirty-five hundred words.

GEO. T. ANGELL,
President.

THE GREAT RAILROAD ACCIDENT IN NEW JERSEY.

We see in our daily papers that an effort is being made to enact a law requiring railroad trains to always carry two engineers as a precaution against accidents. We see no objection to this, but would suggest in addition that all railroads establish an accident fund, out of which all damages to railroads, which might have been prevented by their employees, shall be paid and at the close of each year all remaining in that fund be distributed pro rata among the engineers, switchmen and other employees upon whom the safety of passengers and property may depend. In addition to this, have in each principal railroad station a locked box into which all employees are requested to deposit letters, signed or unsigned, in regard to anything likely to benefit the road. Under such a system not only every employee will be watching to prevent accidents himself, but will also be watching every other employee; and if any man, by reason of drinking, sickness, over-work or otherwise shall at any time increase the danger, that fact will be brought at once to the attention of the officers of the company.

PURE, WHOLESOME MILK.

Years ago we gave a great deal of time and labor to investigating the milk supply of Boston. We obtained the most overwhelming evidence that nearly all our milk was adulterated with water and various preparations, and that in consequence probably thousands of Boston babies had died from want of proper nourishment, or been made weaklings. Since then much has been done by our State and City Boards of Health to improve the quality of our milk. But in our judgment it is impossible for them with their limited resources and many duties to do

If Mr. Carnegie or others would give to aid in carrying humane education into all our schools, it might save our nation tens of thousands of lives and perhaps thousands of millions of dollars.

TO PREVENT STRIKES.

Prize of $200 for the Best Plan Offered by American Humane Education Society.

GOV. JOHN L. BATES.

MAYOR PATRICK A. COLLINS.

Who will name two Members of the Committee.

With notice of our $200 prize offer the Boston Globe prints on February 16th the photos of our Massachusetts Governor and Boston Mayor [both good men]. By kind permission of the Globe we send them to all newspapers and magazines in North America north of Mexico, all of which receive our paper every month; also to all Massachusetts lawyers, clergymen, doctors and others, as appears on our last page.

anything like what ought to be done until we have as we have often urged, societies for the protection of public health similar to our Societies P. O. A., supported by private philanthropy, not dependent upon politics, and employing chemists, investigators and officers who will never hesitate to attack and expose everybody and everything that ought to be attacked and exposed.

But the object of this article is to impress on all our readers the great fact that you cannot have good milk without kind treatment of the cow.

If you keep cows in dark or unclean stables—if you fail to give them air, exercise and sunshine—if you feed them on improper food to force a larger yield of milk—if you keep them in solitary confinement even, without companions—if you do anything to worry or trouble, or make unhappy your cows, somebody who drinks the milk will have to suffer, just as the nursing child suffers when its mother is troubled, the milk under such circumstances becoming not only dangerous but sometimes, as every intelligent physician knows, poisonous to the child.

When the public come to more widely know the good we are trying to do simply in this one matter of the kinder treatment of cows—through our over 50,000 "Bands of Mercy," and the circulation of such publications as the "Strike at Shane's," "Hollyhurst," and this paper so widely over our country to the thousands of editors and others, they will get a new idea of the magnitude of our work and how it bears not only on humanity, but also on public health.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

FOR THE HORSES.

The following letter received by us Saturday, February 14th, we sent to our four Boston Sunday papers—the Herald, Globe, Post and Journal—in all of which it appeared on February 15th:

AMERICAN EXPRESS COMPANY,
Office of Superintendent Stables.

BOSTON, MASS., Feb. 14, 1903.

MR. GEO. T. ANGELL, President,
Mass. Society Prevention Cruelty to Animals.

Dear Sir:—Within the last ten days we have had twelve of our horses injured by nails picked up in the streets. As all who have to do with horses know, the injury to the animal from this cause is very severe and in many instances proves fatal. The foot of the horse is, generally speaking, the main stay to the animal's usefulness.

As your Society is always on the look-out to benefit the animals in every possible way, would you kindly call the attention of the public through the press to the importance of the matter, and thereby lessen the possibility of injury to man's greatest and best friend, the horse.

It is no doubt carelessness and thoughtlessness on the part of many that nails are so prevalent in the streets of Boston.

Yours truly,
H. W. PETERS, Supt. Stables.

We understand that most of the injury to horses from nails in the streets comes from the breaking up of boxes and carelessly leaving the nails.

We have this morning a letter from Mr. Charles E. Beau, that six of his horses have been crippled by nails picked up on the streets.

SEATTLE.

Mrs. Laurence Gronlund, Secretary of the Seattle Humane Society, writes us that President Nason of that Society has made his seven day old son a life member [the election to date from his birth], making him, as she thinks, probably the youngest life member of any humane society in the country.

IN THE "BOSTON GLOBE."

We are pleased to find in the Boston Globe of December 28th an abridged version of the beautiful poem of Phoebe Cary, telling how a little Dutch boy was sent out in a storm to carry assistance to a poor blind man living at some distance, and how, on the little boy's return, he discovered a small leak in the great dike which protects Holland from the ocean, and remained there all night stopping the leak with his little arm until help came in the morning.

We give the last few lines of this beautiful poem:

The good dame in the cottage
Is up and astir with the light,
For the thought of her little Harold
Has been with her all the night.
And now she watches the pathway,
As yester-eve she had done;
But what does she see so strange and black
Against the rising sun?
Her neighbors are bearing between them
Something so straight to her door;
Her child is coming home, but not
As he ever came before!
"He is dead!" she cries; "my darling!"
And the startled father hears,
And comes and looks the way she looks,
And fears the thing she fears:
Till a glad shout from the bearers
Thrills the stricken man and wife:
"Give thanks for your son has saved our land
And God has saved his life!"
So, there in the morning sunshine,
They knelt about the boy;
And every head was bared and bent
In tearful, reverent joy.
They have many a valiant hero,
Remembered through the years,
But never one whose name so oft
Is named with loving tears.
And his deeds shall be sung at the cradle,
And told to the child on the knee,
So long as the dikes of Holland
Divide the land from the sea.

NINE YEARS AGO.

Nine years ago, on January 5th, 1894, we were taken by double pneumonia, and the distinguished expert called to our bedside said it was no use to be called again as our recovery was impossible.

During much of six weeks we hung between life and death, saved by Divine Providence, our physician and the unceasing efforts of our good wife.

In March, 1894, issue of Our Dumb Animals, appeared the following:

MR. ANGELL'S SICKNESS.

The following, dictated by Mr. Angell, has been sent to various corresponding friends:

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW OF DEATH.

Since last addressing our kind friends we have passed through the valley of the shadow of death, and but for the Infinite Goodness would now be lying beneath the turf on a little hillside of Mount Auburn.

On January 6th, out of a perfectly clear sky of unusual good health, suddenly came upon us, without warning, like a black cyclone, "the grippe," and in a few hours, bereft of reason, attacked by pneumonia in both lungs, under the care of two physicians who thought our case almost hopeless, we lay panting and struggling for breath and life.

Our life has been spared, for how much longer we cannot tell, to carry on the battle to which it is gladly devoted.

We recognize that it is largely a battle of this world, to be fought as heretofore with worldly weapons, but if our friends should at any time hereafter sometimes think that our armor seems to resemble in some respects somewhat more than heretofore the panoply of a higher existence, they may know that through the long days and nights, when our life hung trembling in the balance, thoughts have come to us which can never be forgotten until our final call by the angelus bells of eternity to pass from labor perhaps to perpetual adoration and prayer.

Nothing has touched us more deeply during our sickness than when told that the young ladies in one of our large educational institutions were in their prayer meetings asking the Almighty to spare our life.

To all who in this time of our great trial and danger have remembered us in their thoughts and prayers we can only say, God bless you—God bless you all.

Some people do not believe in the efficacy of prayer. On the other hand, millions on millions on millions of the holiest and best men and women of all ages from the dawn of civilization to the present time have believed as fully in the efficacy of prayer as they have in their own existence.

The happiest hours of a large part of the life of our own good mother were the two hours which she gave daily to silent, secret prayer, and you might as well have tried to convince her that the sun, moon and stars stood still in the heavens as to convince her that the Almighty did not listen to prayer.

We would be glad to have not only the prayers of all our humane friends and societies and "Bands of Mercy," but of all the good, both living and dead, who have power to pray.

From the many kind letters that came during that sickness, assuring us of the prayers of the writers, was the following from the wife of the Bishop of Maryland, who has herself passed through the valley of the shadow of death to, we hope, a better and happier existence.

"I am so glad to hear of Mr. Angell's convalescence. God made the shadow of death to pass over him. Thousands have prayed for him. Thousands will give thanks to God for giving him back."

THE FAMILY PHYSICIAN.

This is such a day of specialties that comparatively few can ever enter into the dear old relation that existed formerly between physician and family. Heart secrets and sufferings that the minister could not extract from burdened souls were poured into the trustworthy ear of the good doctor who ministered to soul quite as much as to body. His breast was the safe repository of every man, woman and child in the parish who needed his confidence; and to no other human being did he ever betray these confidences. When such a man enters the sick-room the burden of anxiety falls from the mother's heart; her child is safe so long as he is there. It seems as though he had power to banish the death angel; or, if indeed that sad messenger must come, the physician becomes the sympathetic friend who gives strength to bear the sorrow.

There is no man in the community who has more love and respect than the good physician. As a rule physicians are more permanent residents than ministers, since short pastorates are now the fashion, so that the pastor must give up to the doctor the place of honor which he once held when he was the cure of two or three successive generations in the same parish. One asks with sadness, as the poets pass away, Who is going to sing the songs of the future? When the great men die we ask, Where are they who are to be the great men of the days to come? And so, when we see the family doctor going his rounds, faithful, generous, devoted, and daily growing more wise, threading his way through crowded streets that were pasture-land when he began his practice forty years ago, we ask with a pang at our hearts, Who can ever take the place of the beloved physician? Long may he be spared! And many of the young men who are now seeking that profession for "what there is in it," find that the noblest thing in it is the opportunity that it gives for devotion and self-sacrifice, for winning love and honor, and for saving men heart and soul as well as body. No profession requires more of a man—fidelity, purity, wisdom, patience, hard work, sleepless nights, weary days; but no profession brings richer rewards or sweeter benedictions.—Christian Register.

DOVE SLAUGHTER.

During the big Kansas City shoot 18,000 defenceless doves, whose natural fleetness of wing had been dulled by coop life, were, to the disgrace of that city, thrown from traps and shot at "just for fun." As Longfellow says: "A slaughter to be told in groans, not words."

Many crippled birds escaped, to die a lingering death, with broken legs, beaks shot away or bodies ripped open. For instance, I found near the gun club grounds a dove with both legs shot off fluttering helplessly about hunting food. Surely this dove was paying dearly for somebody's "fun."

It causes pain, hardens the public conscience, and above all cultivates cruelty in the hearts of the young, than which there is nothing more dangerous to the future happiness of our own race.—Exchange.

FORTY THOUSAND.

Every woman who wears a bird on her hat is a party to the taking of innocent life, thoughtlessly though it may be. God made the beautiful songsters for a wiser and more beneficent purpose than merely to gratify a passing fancy. A startling and it would seem incredible report is to the effect that "forty thousand birds, mostly sandpipers, have been recently killed on the North Carolina coast for millinery purposes." Forty thousand innocent lives sacrificed! Oh, the pity of it all! Surely, there ought to be some action taken against this wanton destruction, this war that is being waged, the world over, against "the free tenants of land, air, and ocean,

Their forms all symmetry, their motions grace."

QUESTIONS FOR OUR COLLEGE AND OTHER DEBATING SOCIETIES.

How did we get into the Cuban war, when Spain was willing to abandon the island without the firing of a single gun, and how many lives were sacrificed?

How did we get into the Philippine war, [away off on the coast of Asia] and the payment to Spain of twenty millions of dollars for it, and how many lives have been sacrificed in it?

How many names have these wars added to our pension lists?

And how much has ever been given to properly educate the youth in our colleges and schools for the prevention of wars?

GEO. T. ANGELL.

NAILS IN THE STREETS.

As our readers know, we had an article in each of our four Boston Sunday papers on February 15th, showing the great injury done to horses by nails carelessly thrown or left in the streets.

We are glad to notice that our Police Commissioners have now sent out vigorous instructions to prevent this being done in the future, and for the prosecution of those who continue to do it.

FIRE-PROOF CARS ON ELEVATED ELECTRIC ROADS.

Our readers will remember the articles we have written and published on the above subject. We are glad to find in our evening paper of February 9th that our Elevated Railway Company, is now furnishing every car with a fire extinguisher. So far so good.

A tramp rang a doctor's door-bell and asked the pretty woman who opened the door if she would be so kind as to ask the doctor if he had a pair of old trousers he would give him.

"I'm the doctor," said the smiling woman, and the tramp left quickly.

CONDENSED MILK.

A good lady once remarked to Dr. Adams that his sermons were a little too long. "Ah, sister," said he, "I'm afraid you don't like the 'sincere milk of the word.'"

"Yes, I do," said she; "but you know the fashion nowadays is condensed milk."

PREMATURE BURIAL.

As all our readers know, we have many times called attention to the danger of premature burial, our own father narrowly escaping it. We have gathered a large amount of medical evidence on this subject, have petitioned every one of our State legislatures in regard to it, and have written the President of every Senate and the Speaker of every House, and are glad to see that an act is now before our Massachusetts legislature, from which we give the following:

HOUSE BILL NO. 572.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

SECTION 1. That no person shall place the body of any human being in a coffin, casket or other receptacle by which air or light is excluded, or by which free movement is prevented, or bury or cremate such body except after a certificate of death as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 2. Whenever any person in any city or town apparently deceases, the board of health of said city or town, or the selectmen of such town if no board of health exists, shall within six hours of such event being known be informed of such apparent death by any person or persons having the body in charge.

SECTION 3. As soon as is possible after such information the board of health or said selectmen of such city or town in which such apparent death occurred, shall cause an examination of such body to be made to determine whether death is real or only apparent, and certification of the fact of death shall not be made until the following facts are established by actual tests, wherever possible, viz:—

(One) Heart sounds entirely absent, the test being by the stethoscope.

(Two) Respiratory sounds entirely absent.

(Three) Temperature of the mouth same as that of surrounding air.

(Four) A bright needle plunged into the body of the biceps muscle, left there, shows no sign of oxidation.

(Five) Intermittent shocks of electricity at different tensions passed by needles into various muscles and groups of muscles, give no indication whatever of irritability.

(Six) Fillet test applied to veins of the arm causes no filling of veins on distal side of fillet.

(Seven) Opening of vein shows the blood to have undergone coagulation.

(Eight) Subcutaneous injection of ammonia causes a dirty brown stain indicative of dissolution.

(Nine) Careful movements of the lower jaw and of lower extremities and of occipito-frontalis indicate the presence of rigor mortis.

(Ten) Scarlet line (diaphanous test) is absent.

(Eleven) Decomposition has set in.

And provided, further, that, if there is an absence of any of the signs of death except decomposition, all known means of resuscitation shall be tried while such proofs are absent.

SECTION 4. The test provided for in section three shall be made by not less than two doctors of medicine in person, who shall have lawfully received the degree of M.D., one of whom may be a member of the board of health.

SECTION 5. No provision of this act shall be construed to prevent any means being used by any person to restore life to the supposed dead body.

Other provisions are made for carrying out the provisions of this act.

ONE OF THE LETTERS.

ONE OF THE LETTERS THAT HELPED US OBTAIN THE LAW PREVENTING VIVISECTION IN OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The following letter was handed to every member of the Massachusetts Legislature:

To the Members of the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

GENTLEMEN:

Respectfully represents the undersigned, that while slowly convalescing from an attack of pneumonia in both lungs, from which he has barely escaped with life, he is unable to appear before the committees of your honorable bodies to ask, in behalf of the several Humane Societies he represents, that you will kindly grant that the school children of this State shall not be taught in our schools, by the use of chloroform and otherwise, to kill and dissect cats and other animals—a teaching painful to many, injurious to all who are led to become interested in such killing and dissections, and as we think liable in some, and perhaps many, cases to become dangerous to public safety.

The undersigned, in behalf of the several Societies he represents, would most respectfully present the following specimen statements showing the nature of these teachings, and would most earnestly pray for your votes and voices to prohibit them throughout this Commonwealth.

With the earnest belief that the Legislature will gladly now, as it has many times in the past, aid our humane work, which stands to-day, in the judgment of many, second to no other in this country or the world, I am most respectfully,

GEO. T. ANGELL,

President of the American Humane Education Society, the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and the Parent American Band of Mercy, 19 Milk Street, Boston.

Why not take school children to the slaughter-houses and show them the internal organs of the various animals killed for food.

NON-COMMITTAL.

Our good old Dartmouth President of many years ago, the Rev. Dr. Lord, was a famous man for non-committal when he wanted to be. At one time a phrenologist, through the New Hampshire Statesman, called upon him as the head of public education in the state to say whether he believed the science of phrenology to be true. The doctor could not well avoid an answer, so he wrote a long letter, beginning "whether the science of phrenology be true or not, which I shall neither attempt to assert or deny"—and so it went on to the end, which left the public in about the same state of enlightenment on the subject as the old lady who declared that she could always tell good indigo, because when you put good indigo into the water it would either sink or swim, and she didn't remember which.

We meet these non-committal people occasionally now-a-days.

They are not exactly the kind of people that came over in the Mayflower, or threw the tea into Boston harbor, or stood on Bunker Hill.

They don't bother their heads about docking, or shooting pigeons from traps for sport, or wearing birds on bonnets, or dissecting cats and other animals in our public schools.

In all the battles of life they much resemble the colored cook who ran away at Fort Donaldson at the enemy's first fire, and when asked by his commanding officer why he ran away at the first fire, answered that he would have ran away before if he had known that they were going to fire. They never intend to be crucified or burned at the stake—not if they know it—but as they never disagree with anybody they are very pleasant people to meet socially and so are in their way useful.

How much better to substitute in our high and other schools for the professor who cuts up cats the professor who will take his classes into the woods and fields, to study with kodaks and opera glasses the habits of our so-called poor relations, and by kindness make them as tame as Thoreau did, when they came to him and fed from his hand.

OUR DUMB ANIMALS.

Boston, March, 1903.

ARTICLES for this paper may be sent to
GEO. T. ANGELL, President, 19 Milk St.

BACK NUMBERS FOR DISTRIBUTION.

Persons wishing Our Dumb Animals for gratuitous distribution only can send us five cents to pay postage, and receive ten copies, or ten cents and receive twenty copies. We cannot afford larger numbers at this price.

TEACHERS AND CANVASSERS.

Teachers can have Our Dumb Animals one year for twenty-five cents.

Persons wishing to canvass for the paper will please make application to this office.

Our American Humane Education Society sends this paper this month to the editors of over twenty thousand newspapers and magazines.

OUR AMBULANCE

Can be had at any hour of the day or night by calling Telephone 992 Tremont.

Horse owners are expected to pay reasonable charges for its use, but in emergency cases where they are unable to do so the ambulance will be sent at the expense of the Society, but only upon an owner's order, or upon that of a police officer or Society agent.

SUBSCRIPTIONS AND REMITTANCES.

We would respectfully ask all persons who send us subscriptions or remittances to examine our report of receipts, which is published in each number of our paper, and if they do not find the sums they have sent properly credited, kindly notify us.

If correspondents fail to get satisfactory answers please write again, and on the envelope put the word "Personal."

My correspondence is now so large that I can read only a small part of the letters received, and seldom long ones.
GEO. T. ANGELL.

We are glad to report this month six hundred and eighty-nine new branches of our Parent Band of Mercy, making a total of fifty-three thousand five hundred and thirteen.

NEW BAND OF MERCY BADGES.

There having been a wide call for cheaper Band of Mercy badges, we have succeeded in adding to the kinds we have been using a new badge in the two sizes above represented. They are very handsome—a white star on a blue ground, with gilt letters, and we sell them at bare cost, five for ten cents, in money or postage stamps, or larger numbers at same price. We cannot attend to smaller orders than five.

HUMANE EDUCATION AND PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

At the February meeting of the directors of the American Humane Education Society and Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, held on the 18th ult., President Angell reported that the Society's agents during the past month had examined, in their investigations, 8012 animals, taken 148 horses from work, and mercifully killed 268 horses and other animals.

Six hundred and eighty-nine new "Bands of Mercy" had been formed during the month, making a total of 53,513.

"Bands of Mercy" had now been formed in all the public and parochial schools of 328 Massachusetts cities and towns.

President Angell had been notified that after the death of certain annuitants over thirty thousand dollars would come to the Society from the estate of Anna E. Keyes, of Moline, Illinois.

The American Humane Education Society offers a prize of $200 for the best plan of preventing strikes. The committee to decide will be appointed by Governor Bates and Mayor Collins.

HON. ALBERT E. PILLSBURY.

At the February meeting of the directors of the American Humane Education Society and Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, held on February 18th, it was unanimously voted that our kindest thanks be rendered to our counsel, the Hon. Albert E. Pillsbury, formerly Attorney-General of Massachusetts, for his very valuable gratuitous services and able argument at the hearing before the United States Court in regard to the question whether that court had power to over-rule a decision of a state court, under which our Massachusetts Society convicted Dr. H. Q. Thompson of cruelty in slaughtering cattle supposed to have the foot and mouth disease.

THE COACHMEN'S BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.

We are pleased to receive on this Feb. 4th, through its president, John S. Shepherd, a donation of fifteen dollars from the Coachmen's Benevolent Association. We remember with great pleasure the privilege we had of addressing some hundreds of this association some years ago.

BRAINLESS FOOLS AND POLISHED RASCALS.

Several cases have recently come to our knowledge in which young ladies have been insulted by members of the above-named classes.

In one instance a young lady riding with a young man whom she supposed to be a gentleman, was grossly insulted. She contrived to drop her handkerchief, and when the man got out to get it, drove off at a rapid pace for home, and left him to get back the best way he could.

In one of our railroad cars a young lady, after suffering from the insulting attentions of a stranger for an hour or more, asked the conductor to protect her. He promptly stopped the train and put the man off the cars.

In another instance a young lady similarly insulted, after bearing the infliction as long as she could, pulled out her bonnet pin and quietly gave him a thrust in the leg, which caused him to leave the seat with great rapidity.

In the third instance a drunken rascal who grievously insulted two Sisters of Charity was knocked down by an indignant Irishman and put out of the car.

Young ladies, we advise you in all such cases to act promptly and with decision. The spirit of chivalry among decent men is just as common now as it ever was, and you may be sure that in any public conveyance you will never appeal for protection against brainless fools or polished rascals in vain.

OUR "HUMANE BUILDING."

It is suggested that our proposed new building shall be named "The Humane Building"—that in the most prominent part of it shall be inscribed the names of its givers and the objects for which it is erected: "Glory to God, Peace on Earth, Kindness, Justice and Mercy to Every Living Creature."

EDUCATED DEVILS.

We see by the papers that certain Harvard students have proposed to convert the neglected people of East Cambridge. To which Father John O'Brien, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, East Cambridge, replies, suggesting that, for the present, their services are more needed to convert [what Mr. Angell calls] the educated devils of their own university.

There can be no doubt that [with many good men] lots of educated devils are going out from some of our leading colleges and universities to endanger our country and curse the world. If our colleges and universities would give to each graduate only a diploma stating truly the character the student has maintained during his college course it would help the graduates who deserve to be helped and protect the public to some extent from educated devils.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

REV. REGIS CANEVIN.

In our February paper we mentioned receiving a very kind letter from the above-named gentleman, of St. Paul's Cathedral, Pittsburg, Pa., in which he speaks of our work and the work of our American Humane Education Society as one every teacher of youth and every Christian should appreciate; and with it came subscriptions for five hundred copies of Our Dumb Animals to be used in five great Catholic schools of Pittsburg.

We are gratified to see in our last evening's paper that this gentleman has now become Bishop Canevin, being installed with great ceremonies in his new position.

THE SHORTEST METHOD OF PREVENTING STRIKES.

Probably the shortest method of preventing strikes will be found in the "Sermon on the Mount," St. Matthew, chapter seven, verse twelve:

"Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

This is the doctrine [extended to include also God's lower creatures] which our American Humane Education Society is endeavoring to teach through its "Bands of Mercy" and otherwise the children and youth in all our schools.

As showing the width of our correspondence, the first three letters we take up from our morning's mail on this February 25th are from St. John, New Brunswick, San Diego, California, and Bishop Morris of Portland, Oregon.

Founders of American Band of Mercy.
GEO. T. ANGELL and REV. THOMAS TIMMINS.

Office of Parent American Band of Mercy.
GEO. T. ANGELL, President; JOSEPH L. STEVENS, Secretary.

Over fifty-three thousand branches of the Parent American Band of Mercy have been formed, with probably over two million members.

PLEDGE.

"I will try to be kind to all harmless living creatures, and try to protect them from cruel usage."

Any Band of Mercy member who wishes can cross out the word harmless from his or her pledge. M. S. P. C. A. on our badges means "Merciful Society Prevention of Cruelty to All."

We send without cost, to every person asking, a copy of "Band of Mercy Information" and other publications.

Also without cost, to every person who forms a "Band of Mercy," obtaining the signatures of thirty adults or children or both to the pledge, and sends us the name chosen for the "band" and the name and post-office address [town and state] of the president who has been duly elected:

1. Our monthly paper, "OUR DUMB ANIMALS," full of interesting stories and pictures, for one year.

2. Mr. Angell's Address to the High, Latin, Normal and Grammar Schools of Boston.

3. Copy of Band of Mercy Songs.

4. Twelve Lessons on Kindness to Animals, containing many anecdotes.

5. Eight Humane Leaflets, containing pictures and one hundred selected stories and poems.

6. For the President, an imitation gold badge.

The head officers of Juvenile Temperance Associations and teachers and Sunday-school teachers, should be presidents of Bands of Mercy.

Nothing is required to be a member but to sign the pledge, or authorize it to be signed.

Any intelligent boy or girl fourteen years old can form a Band with no cost, and receive what we offer, as before stated.

The prices for badges, gold or silver imitation, are eight cents large, five cents small; ribbon, gold stamped, eight cents, ink printed, four cents; song and hymn books, with fifty-two songs and hymns, two cents; cards of membership, two cents; and membership book, eight cents. The "Twelve Lessons on Kindness to Animals" cost only two cents for the whole, bound together in one pamphlet. The Humane Leaflets cost twenty-five cents a hundred, or eight for five cents.

Everybody, old and young, who wants to do a kind act, to make the world happier and better, is invited to address, by letter or postal, GEO. T. ANGELL, Esq., President, 19 Milk Street, Boston, Mass., and receive full information.

Good Order of Exercises for Band of Mercy Meetings.

1.—Sing Band of Mercy song or hymn, and repeat the Pledge together. [See Melodies.]

2.—Remarks by President, and reading of Report of last meeting by Secretary.

3.—Readings. "Angell Prize Contest Recitations," "Memory Gems," and anecdotes of good and noble sayings and deeds done to both human and dumb creatures, with vocal and instrumental music.

4.—Sing Band of Mercy song or hymn.

5.—A brief address. Members may then tell what they have done to make human and dumb creatures happier and better.

6.—Enrollment of new members.

7.—Sing Band of Mercy song or hymn.

DOG DIES, BUT SAVED THE FAMILY.

Special Dispatch to the Sunday News.

PATERSON, Feb. 14, 1908.—A Newfoundland dog saved George Coppersmith and his family from death by fire to-day, but lost its own life. The family live in Park avenue, Hawthorne. Mr. Coppersmith is a watchmaker, who does business in Malden Lane, New York.

Last night he sat up late at home working on some watches he had carried home with him. When he retired he forgot to turn the damper in the parlor stove, and he thinks this was the cause of a fire which started an hour or two later.

It was 2 o'clock in the morning, when the dog, which was a pet in the household, ran into the room where the five-year-old son, who is a cripple, was sleeping. The dog was very fond of the boy, but this morning he caught the bed sheets in his mouth and dragged the child out of bed. The boy was alarmed and ran to his father's room. Mr. Coppersmith wondered at the strange action of the dog and went through the house. When he opened the door of the parlor the room was in flames. The opening of the door allowed the flames to spread rapidly, and Mr. Coppersmith had scarcely time to get his family out of the house before all avenues of escape were cut off.

The dog had remained by the side of the crippled boy until he was carried to a neighbor's house. He had not seen Mr. Coppersmith get the other children out, and it is supposed that the dog then went back into the burning building to save the other children. Its charred remains were found in the ruins of the building to-day.

SAVED BY HER DOG.

NARROW ESCAPE OF MRS. WILLIAM JONES FROM DEATH BY FIRE.

Mrs. William Jones, who made her escape from the dwelling-house fire on Boston hill in Fairhaven, Mass., early yesterday morning, owes her life to her coach dog. But for him, Mrs. Jones would never have been able to leave the building. The canine, aroused by the smoke, it is supposed, began barking, and not getting a response from his mistress he went to her sleeping apartment, where she lay on the bed fast asleep. The intelligent animal stood up on his hind legs and licked Mrs. Jones's face and partially aroused her, but only sufficiently to cause her to push him down. But the dog was not discouraged. Again he made an attempt to awaken her, and this time he used his paws. He succeeded, and Mrs. Jones being thoroughly aroused took in the situation and made good her escape. Nearly everything was lost, and the total damage is about $3000. — Evening Standard, New Bedford, Jan. 27th.

Moving don't forget your cat.

GREAT PET.

[From "Cat Journal," Palmyra, N. Y.]

SAGACIOUS CATS.

South of Fulton Street, in New York City, the cat is not a pet but a business investment, an insurance policy against the river rats. Yet, wild as some of these animals are, there is one man, says the Tribune, whom they regard with approval. That is the cat's meat man.

"I don't know all of them," he says. "No man could; and besides there are changes all the time. But if I don't know them, they all know me, every last cat of them."

"And they're wise; cats are as wise as any beast that lives. Every cat on the block runs to meet me, but they are always on their good behavior."

"Now, here's a place where I leave meat for six cats. They all follow me in when I give it to the porter. They are the cats that belong here, and all the rest of the cats are waiting peacefully for me to come out. Now, are those four cats run ahead and into the next place; they're the cats that belong there, and they line up to meet me."

"But that is a small part of the wisdom of these cats. Five mornings in the week I get around my beat between seven and eight o'clock, but on Saturdays I am always late, and never reach this block before nine. Well, on Saturday mornings the cats know that I'm late, and they don't put their heads outside the doors until it lacks only a little of nine."

"You see there are calendars hanging up in every office to tell the day of the week, and clocks, too, and there's nothing to hinder the cats from consulting them. If they don't find out that way, how do they know when it's nine o'clock Saturday mornings?"

A GOOD STORY.

Some one tells us of a dude in a horse-car, who, seeing a young lady whom he thought to be impressed with his personal charms, crossed over and took a seat beside her, and said: "Haven't I met you somewhere before?"

To which she replied, in a voice heard by the other passengers:

"I'm not quite sure, but I think you are the man that stole our specks!" On that remark the passengers laughed and the dude left the car.

ANGELL PRIZE CONTESTS.

A splendid way to raise money in schools, churches, Sunday-schools, or elsewhere for any object preferred.

ANGELL PRIZE CONTESTS IN HUMANE SPEAKING.

We have beautiful sterling silver medals, of which this cut shows the size and face inscriptions.

On the back is inscribed, "The American Humane Education Society."

We sell them at one dollar each, which is just what we pay for them by the hundred.

Each is in a box on red velvet, and we make no charge for postage when sent by mail.

The plan is this: Some large church or public hall is secured, several schools, Sunday-schools, granges or other societies are invited to send their best speaker or reciter to compete for the prize medal; some prominent citizen presides; other prominent citizens act as the committee of award, and a small admission fee, ten or twenty cents, pays all the costs, and leaves a handsome balance for the local humane society or "Band of Mercy," or school or Sunday-school or church or library or any other object preferred.

"BLESSED ARE THE MERCIFUL."

We have in our principal office [in a large frame and conspicuous position] the names of those who have kindly remembered our two Societies in their wills.

When we get a building we intend to have them so engraved in it as to last through the centuries.

PRIZES $675.

In behalf of The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals I do hereby offer (1) $100 for evidence which shall enable the Society to convict any man in Massachusetts of cruelty in the practice of vivisection.

(2) $25 for evidence to convict of violating the recently-enacted law of Massachusetts against vivisections and dissections in our public schools.

(3) $100 for evidence to convict any member of the Myopia, Hingham, Dedham, Harvard or Country Clubs, of a criminal violation of law by causing his horse to be mutilated for life.

(4) $50 for evidence to convict anyone in Massachusetts of a violation of law by causing any horse to be mutilated for life by docking.

(5) Twenty prizes of $10 each, and forty prizes of $5 each, for evidence to convict of violating the laws of Massachusetts by killing any insect-eating bird or taking eggs from its nest.

GEO. T. ANGELL, President.

Our creed and the creed of our "American Humane Education Society," as appears on its battle-flags—its badges—and its official seal, is "Glory to God," "Peace on Earth," "Kindness, Justice and Mercy to every living creature."

If there were no birds man could not live on the earth.

OUR PRIZE STORY PRICES.

For Pity's Sake, in paper covers, 10 cents mailed; cloth bound, 60 cents at office, or 70 cents mailed.

Beautiful Joe at publishers' price, 60 cents at office, or 72 cents mailed. Cheaper edition, 25 cents; mailed, 30 cents. Both editions cloth bound.

Postage stamps are acceptable for all remittances.

"NEW YORK'S 400."

"It should receive as wide a circulation as 'Black Beauty.'"—Boston Courier.

"Charmingly told story. Its merits are many and its readers cannot be too numerous."—Boston Ideas.

"Extremely interesting. Will be laid down only with regret."—Gloucester Breeze.

"FOR PITY'S SAKE" FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION.

In past numbers of our paper we have said that various friends had given us donations to aid in gratuitous distribution of this most valuable book, which every one reads with pleasure, and having read, wants every one else to read. We are sorry to add that the fund given for its distribution is now exhausted, but to those who wish to buy it the price for our edition [which we sell at bare cost] is ten cents per copy, post-paid, and the cloth-bound edition we are kindly permitted by its author, Mrs. Carter, to sell at sixty cents, or post-paid seventy cents per copy.

"The Humane Horse Book," compiled by George T. Angell, is a work which should be read by every man, woman and child in the country. Price, 8 cents.—Boston Courier.

Nations, like individuals, are powerful in the degree that they command the sympathies of their neighbors.

In hiring a herd, coupe, or other carriage never forget to look at the horses and hire those that look the best and have no docked tails. When we take a herd we pick out one drawn by a good horse, tell the driver not to hurry, but take it easy, and give him five or ten cents over his fare for being kind to his horse. We never ride behind a dock-tailed horse.

Send for prize essays published by Our American Humane Education Society on the best plan of settling the difficulties between capital and labor, and receive a copy without charge.

Always kill a wounded bird or other animal as soon as you can. All suffering of any creature, just before it dies, poisons the meat.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

Every kind word you say to a dumb animal or bird will make you happier.

SONGS OF HAPPY LIFE, &c.

For prices of Miss S. J. Eddy's new book, above named, and a variety of humane publications, address, "Humane Education Committee, No. 61 Westminster Street, Providence, R. I."

One thing we must never forget, namely: that the infinitely most important work for us is the humane education of the millions who are soon to come on the stage of action.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

What do you consider, Mr. Angell, the most important work you do?

Answer. Talking each month to the editors of every newspaper and magazine in North America north of Mexico, who in their turn talk to probably over sixty millions of readers.

"Just so soon and so far as we pour into all our schools the songs, poems and literature of mercy towards these lower creatures, JUST SO SOON AND SO FAR SHALL WE REACH THE ROOTS NOT ONLY OF CRUELTY BUT OF CRIME."

GEO. T. ANGELL.

Refuse to ride in any cab, herd, or carriage drawn by a docked horse, and tell the driver why.

FOR FREE DISTRIBUTION.

To those who will have them properly posted we send:

- (1) Placards for the protection of birds under our Massachusetts laws.
- (2) Placards for the protection of horses everywhere from docking and tight check-reins.

WHAT A DOCKED HORSE TELLS.

(1) That the owner does not care one straw for the suffering of dumb animals.

(2) That the owner does not care one straw for the good opinion of nine-tenths of his fellow-citizens who witness the effects of his cruelty.

Every unkind treatment to the cow poisons the milk—even talking unkindly to her.

Is it cruel to keep a horse locked up in a stable without exercise?

Answer: Just as cruel as it would be to keep a boy, or girl, or man, or woman in the same condition.

If to this is added solitary confinement without the company of other animals, then the cruelty is still greater.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

WORTH REMEMBERING.

(1) Avoid so far as possible drinking any water which has been contaminated by lead pipes or lead lined tanks.

(2) Avoid drinking water which has been run through galvanised iron pipes.

(3) Avoid using anything acid which has been kept in a tin can.

(4) When gripe or other epidemics are prevailing wear a little crude sulphur in your boots or shoes.

ONE OF THE FUNNIEST STORIES.

MIKE'S MYSTERY.

BY MRS. J. S. ADAMS.

"What will I do atter I've claned the stable to-day, missus?" asked Mike, a servant of Mrs. May.

"Wait a few moments, Mike, till I have finished 'The Strike at Shane's,'" answered Mrs. May.

He went to the kitchen, saying to the cook, "What-iever is 'The Strike at Shane's?' I hearn Jim Macarty talking about it last night, an' I seen Mrs. Cronin wid her clothes standing in the tub an' the ither half flapping on the line, an'—"

"Some one is calling you, Mike," said the cook, with a broad smile, for she had been told by her mistress that the "Strike" was a story about animals. She concluded to keep it a mystery for a while and enjoy the fun of seeing Mike trying to puzzle it out.

After Mike had cleared the stable his mistress told him he must go to the city and get a basket of meat his master had ordered at the market.

While in the cars he heard two young ladies talking behind him. It was "The Strike at Shane's" that he heard one say was "just splendid," and Mike, as he left the car, said to himself, "It must be a dog fight or some ither wicked thing. Faith if I kin find it I'll go an' see meself."

He was walking rapidly toward the market when a boy ran into him and nearly knocked him down.

"Mind yer steps, b'y; I ain't a highway to be walked over," said Mike, angrily.

"Excuse me; I—I was reading as I had no right to in the street," answered the lad; "but," he continued, "the story was so interesting—it's the 'Strike'—"

"Bother 'The Strike'; I've a mind to strike ye, b'y, for treading on me new boots."

Seeing that words would be of no avail the boy passed on, while Mike went muttering to himself, "'The Strike at Shane's'; begorra I'll know whatever it manes before night."

He walked so rapidly he ran into an elderly lady with a package in her hand. It fell to the pavement. Mike stooped to pick it up, when a playful dog caught it in his mouth and ran down the street.

"Oh, dear! I've lost 'The Strike at Shane's.' It's the only copy I can afford to buy." The woman almost cried.

"Bother the pup," said Mike. "Ye jist wait here while I chase him."

Some boys, either in fear or mischief, seeing the dog running and Mike chasing him, cried, "Mad dog!" It was quickly echoed by the crowd. Men, women and children ran wildly, till a policeman caught the animal and took the tattered book and handed it to Mike. He retraced his steps and found the woman anxiously waiting. "Here's the paces, ma'am; it's all the pup left."

She took it, while her face plainly showed her disappointment. It was a great loss to her, as she was going to read it to her sick grandchild.

Then Mike hoped he would reach the market before anything more happened; but he was mistaken.

In crossing a crowded street and trying to dodge an electric he ran against a man who had just come from a book-bindery. His arms were full of bundles. He slipped, and out came book after book, some into the gutter, some under the feet of the people.

Boys laughed, women ran, coachmen grinned almost audibly, young ladies said,—

"Oh, my!" and passed on.

"A fine job I have on my hands," said the man who had fallen to the policeman who picked him up.

"Where's that blundering Irishman? Catch him." Mike was out of sight; but before he got far away he heard some one say, "'Strike at Shane's,' I read it on one of the covers."

He began to be really alarmed, but reached the market, took the basket and started for the station, and reached home without any more accidents. The cook told on his arrival that Mrs. May was going to read a story to him that evening, and that it was called "The Strike at Shane's."

"Niver!" he exclaimed. "I've had enough of the crathur! I've seen the baste meself!"

No amount of persuasion could make him willing to listen to it till his mistress told him about the animals talking; then mouth, ears and eyes were open, for he was very fond of horses and all dumb creatures.

Every time he heard of a cruel driver abandoning the check-rein, or a merciless one becoming merciful, he cried, exultingly,—

"It's 'The Strike at Shane's' that did it, or me name is not Mike Murphy."

"If you want your children to be kind to dumb animals you want to get B. B. and S. S. for them."

The foregoing is a copy of an inscription which The Press editor's little eight-year-old girl, Bertha, handed him one evening after returning from his day's work at the office, with the request that it be inserted in the advertising columns of The Press.

That occurred several weeks ago, and the next day we sent an order to The American Humane Education Society for 100 copies of "B. B." and "S. S.," two books which have been quite devoured by the editor's little ones at home.

The mysterious initial letters, "B. B." and "S. S.," stand for Black Beauty and Strike at Shane's, two books the reading of which would benefit every family in the land.—Howard Press, South Dakota.

SNOW STORIES.

When over the earth, all shivering [bare,
The sky drops down a thick white fleece,
We say that up in the clouds somewhere
A little old woman picks her geese—
A feather here and a feather there,
Handfuls downy and soft and fair,
Gray while falling, but white below,
She flings to all the winds that blow.

But there are children over the sea,
Mid Scotland's rugged mountains bred,
Who, fond of a fairy tale as we,
Call it the fairies making bread—
Bread for their breakfast or their tea,
And say that they work so carelessly,
And scatter the wheaten flour so,
It powders all the winds that blow.

Which is the prettier legend, Ted?
The little old woman picking geese,
Or the heedless fairies making bread?
Choose of the two which one you please,
And with tippet and overcoat and sled
Go out till your cheeks are rosy red,
And your whole little body all aglow!
Feathers or flour, you like the snow.

FOR THE LAWYERS.

In the incident related below, a boy twelve years old conquered a smart and shrewd lawyer fighting for a bad cause.

Walter was the important witness, and one of the lawyers, after cross-questioning him severely, said: "Your father has been talking to you and telling you how to testify, hasn't he?"

"Yes," said the boy.

"Now," said the lawyer, "just tell us how your father told you to testify."

"Well," said the boy, modestly, "father told me that the lawyers would try and tangle me, but if I would just be careful and tell the truth I could tell the same thing every time."

The lawyer didn't try to tangle up that boy any more.—Mass. Ploughman.

When Henry Ward Beecher was in the midst of his troubles, a brother rose in one of the prayer meetings and prayed the Lord to show brother Beecher what a great sinner he had been.

Mr. Beecher, paying no attention to the prayer, went on with the meeting.

At its close another brother said to him, "I don't think, brother Beecher, you should have allowed such a prayer as that to be made without saying something about it."

"Oh, no," said Mr. Beecher, "it did the brother a sight of good to make that prayer, and I don't believe the Lord cared much about it."

Mr. F.—"Tell the doctor to come to my house immediately. My wife doesn't quite like the baby's looks."

A MILLION OF DOLLARS.

(From the Boston Globe.)

In response to the question what we would do with a million of dollars:

In response to your question it gives me pleasure to say that if I had a million of dollars I would be glad to use every dollar of it in humanely educating the American people for the purpose of stopping every form of cruelty, both to human beings and the lower animals.

I would do this:

First—By enlisting the teachers of every state and territory to carry humane instruction into all American public and private schools.

Second—By enlisting the educational, religious and secular press of the country to help form a public sentiment which will tend to check cruelty of every kind.

Third—By enlisting the Protestant and Roman Catholic clergy of the country in efforts to unite religious and humane education in all their churches and Sunday-schools.

Fourth—By sending humane information, and the gems of humane literature, pictures, songs and stories through the press and otherwise, as I have been sending Our Dumb Animals and "Black Beauty" all over this country.

Fifth—By the employment of missionaries, forming "humane societies" and hundreds of thousands of "Bands of Mercy" in schools, Sunday-schools and elsewhere, similar to the over 50,000 we have already formed.

Sixth—By showing the millions of American youth, in ways too numerous to be mentioned in this statement, that every kind word they speak or kind act they do makes their own lives happier, and better prepares them for what may come after.

Seventh—By building up in our colleges, schools and elsewhere a spirit of chivalry and humanity, which shall in coming generations substitute ballots for bullets, prevent anarchy and crime, protect the defenceless, maintain the right, and hasten the coming of peace on earth and good will to every harmless living creature, both human and dumb.

I would organize in addition to the societies I am already interested in "a society for the protection of public health."

Like the societies for the protection of dumb animals it should be supported by voluntary subscriptions and gifts, be entirely independent of city and state politics, and ready to attack the richest and most powerful men in the state, whenever they ought to be attacked.

It should employ chemists and microscopists whom nobody could bribe, should publish once a month and send to the editors of newspapers all facts pertaining to the public health which it should be able to discover, and should fearlessly denounce and prosecute all who ought to be denounced and prosecuted.

I know perfectly well the good work being done by our state and city boards of health, and the good men who hold positions on them; but I also know that it is absolutely impossible for them, with their limited appropriations and dependence upon city and state politics, to do anything like the work which public health and public safety demand.

CURE OF SMALLPOX.

"I am willing to risk my reputation as a public man," writes Edward Hines to the Liverpool Mercury, "if the worst case of smallpox cannot be cured in three days by the use of cream of tartar."

"One ounce of cream of tartar, dissolved in a pint of hot water, and drunk at intervals when cold, is a certain, never-failing remedy. It has cured thousands, never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and avoids tedious lingering."—Boston Post, Dec. 16, 1893.

Don't kill your dog trying to make him run with your bicycle. Dogs were intended for no such purpose.

In winter feed the birds.

Dressmaker (standing off and admiring it)—"What a beautiful fit!"

Customer—"Yes, and what a beautiful fit my husband will have when he sees the bill!"

WHAT A TENNESSEE EDITOR SAYS.

A Clarksville special to the Nashville Banner, dated January 9, says:

"While Duncan Huffman, of Ringold, was in a field gathering corn, he heard a large hunting dog making a strange noise, and upon investigation found the canine had jumped a deer. Mr. Huffman had a pistol and fired at the animal four times. Some of the shots must have taken effect, as the deer was later traced to the woods a mile away, by a trail of blood."

Great Scott! Has the time come in this age of refinement and religious teachings, that not even harmless deer can venture into our midst and not be pounced upon and murdered?—Home Enterprise, Dickson, Tenn.

FELL INTO GOOD HANDS.

A deer recently attempted to cross the ice on the mill pond at Southfields, but the ice broke, precipitating it into the water. It was unable to swim to the shore on account of the broken cakes of floating ice and would have certainly drowned but for the timely help of the mill hands, who lassoed the animal and hauled it out on the solid ice. The deer was then taken to the boiler-room, dried and warmed, after which it was given its liberty, and soon disappeared in the surrounding forests.—Goshen Republican.

CRUELTY TO CAGED BIRDS.

We receive a letter from a lady, in which she tells us that she has known of a bird dying in its cage for want of water while its owner sat in the room with it, embroidering—that she has seen birds hung near the kitchen stove where the heat was almost unbearable, and compelled to stay there away from light and fresh air—both these cases occurring in so-called refined and Christian families. She urges that caged birds should be constantly cared for or mercifully put beyond suffering. She also gives a case in regard to the cruel killing of a pet dog, and urges that children should be taught how to treat all these creatures that depend on our mercy. That is precisely what the over fifty thousand "Bands of Mercy" our American Humane Education Society has established are intended to do, and the best thing this good lady can do is to help in every possible way our American Humane Education Society to increase its "Bands of Mercy."

"HO, FOR SLUMBERLAND!"

By EBEN H. REXFORD.

A little song for bedtime, when, robed in gowns of white,
All sleepy little children set sail across the night
For that pleasant, pleasant country where the pretty dream-flowers blow,
"Twixt the sunset and the sunrise,
"For the Slumber Islands, ho!"

When the little ones get drowsy and heavy lids droop down
To hide blue eyes and black eyes, gray eyes and eyes of brown,
A thousand boats for Dreamland are waiting in a row,
And the ferrymen are calling,
"For the Slumber Islands, ho!"

Then the sleepy little children fill the boats along the shore,
And go sailing off to Dreamland; and the dipping of the oar
In the Sea of Sleep makes music that the children only know
When they answer to the boatmen's
"For the Slumber Islands, ho!"

Oh! take a kiss, my darlings, ere you sail away from me
In the boat of dreams that's waiting to bear you o'er
the sea;
Take a kiss and give one, and then away you go
A-sailing into Dreamland.
"For the Slumber Islands, ho!"

From President Wilder of Illinois Wesleyan University: "I am increasingly impressed with the far-reaching and wholesome influence of your American Humane Education Society."

A PUZZLED MONKEY.

Yesterday was a good day for the monkeys at the Fairgrounds, and they liked it. They frisked about in the sunshine, and cut their antics with an abandon that showed them to be bubbling over with fun and mischief. There is one that by some amusing peculiarities becomes an immediate favorite with every spectator. A gentleman in the crowd yesterday happened to have a small pocket-mirror, and just for sport passed it to the favorite. The monkey's behavior, on seeing his face reflected in the glass, kept the crowd in a roar of laughter for nearly an hour. The monkey of course failed to recognize the reflection of himself, and took it for another monkey, and his anxiety to get hold of that monkey was what made the fun. He would look behind the glass and feel for it in such a comical way while he was looking in the glass that one could not help laughing. While the glass was close to his eye he gradually bent over, casually, and noticing that the evanescent monkey was on his back, apparently, he dropped the glass and made a sudden grab for him. When he didn't get him he looked surprised, and commenced looking under the straw to see what had become of him. He was then seized with a luminous idea. He picked up the glass and ran to the topmost branch of the dead tree that is erected in the cage, and climbing to the extreme end again looked in the glass. It seemed he reasoned that in such a position the monkey could not get away. He felt for it, grabbed at it, and tried all sorts of strategy to capture it, notwithstanding repeated failures.—St. Louis Republican.

That monkey made more fun than all the rest of the show. A caged or confined bird or animal can often be made very happy by a little mirror so placed as not to dazzle.—EDITOR.

ASKED FOR AID.

As a Pennsylvania farmer was passing through a patch of wood last summer a hen partridge fluttered up and ran between his feet. It was such a strange thing for so wild a bird to do that the farmer thought the partridge was blind. So he stooped over to pick her up, and then he found she wasn't blind at all, for just as he was about to grasp her she darted toward the brush heap from which he had seen her emerge, stopped at the edge of it and looked back.

Presently she ran at the man again, with her wings down, clucking constantly and appearing to be in great distress about something. The farmer walked to the edge of the copse, and the partridge flew ahead and alighted on the ground two or three rods beyond, winging her way back again when she saw he was not moving. She repeated these manoeuvres until she led him to a hemlock tree, and there, in a little curve made by the roots, he saw a nest full of eggs. At the same time he saw a black snake in the act of swallowing one of the eggs, and understood the reason for the partridge's actions.

He hunted up a club and killed the snake, relates Golden Days. As soon as the partridge saw that the snake was motionless she ceased her noise and hid in the bushes. The man went away, and in a half an hour crept near enough to the tree to see the partridge sitting on the nest as though nothing had happened.

"John!" whispered the good woman in the dead of night, "there are burglars downstairs." "You go down, dear," replied John; "they wouldn't hurt a woman."

WILLS.

A few years since a wealthy friend of ours died who had often spoken of his will, and who we had good reason to believe, had liberally remembered us.

After his death, to the astonishment of many, the will he had told them about could not be found, and so his relatives got all the property.

Our object in publishing these cases is to say that when we were in the practice of law we always drew wills in duplicate, having both properly executed, and advised their being kept in separate places, and that we would urge all who propose to kindly remember either or both of our two Societies to do this, and then, if they choose, to deposit one copy in our strong box in the deposit vaults where it will be safely cared for.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

WHAT IS THE OBJECT OF THE BANDS OF MERCY?

I answer: To teach and lead every child and older person to seize every opportunity to say a kind word or do a kind act that will make some other human being or some dumb creature happier.

SO-HO, BOSSY, SO-HO.

Outside the wind of winter blows,
Outside the thick snow falls;
But Cherry and Brindle and Spot and Rose
Are safe and snug in their stalls.
Up in the barn there are tons of hay,
And thousands of turnips below,
Breakfasts for Buttercup, Midget and May,
So-ho, Bossy, so-ho!

"We're free from the fear of frost or flood,
For the winter may come or go"—
(Says the Marquis of Meadows, rolling his cud)—
So-ho, Bossy, so-ho!

Up and down in the passageway
There gallops a week-old calf,
Sober old cows look up from their hay
To nudge each other and laugh;
His pretty young mother with pride is full—
Affection has set her aglow,
Because he's a beautiful pedigree bull—
So-ho, Bossy, so-ho!

From Buttercup, Midget, from Cherry and Spot
Most delicate compliments flow,
From Dewdrop, Daffodil, Daisy and Dot,
So-ho, Bossy, so-ho!

After supper they lie and coax
Each other to tell a yarn,
I know that they frequently crack their jokes
Down in the basement barn;
But hush-a-bye yearlings upon them creep,
With corn-stalk wands they go,
And soon the picnic is sound asleep;
So-ho, Bossy, so-ho!

Rock-a-bye, Bumble Bee, Brown and Spot,
To the hush-a-bye hills we go,
Lull-a-bye, Daffodil, Dimple and Dot;
So-ho, Bossy, so-ho!

THE KHAN, in The World.

There is no office higher than that of a teacher of youth, for there is nothing on earth so precious as the mind, soul, character of the child. No office should be regarded with greater respect. The first minds in the community should be encouraged to assume it. — CHANNING.

THE CITY TREASURER OF MINNEAPOLIS.

The city treasurer of Minneapolis sends us the following:

The rich, aristocratic, fashionable brute that docks a horse, and the brutest that fail to protest against the docking, say that their horses will be so protected from the flies, will be kept in such clean, flyless stables, that they will never need the tail that God gave them against the raids of biting and blood-sucking insects. But the minute the poor horse becomes unsound, or lapses from the "style" that suits the languishing female that rides behind him, off he goes to the auction block, with no thought of the hands he may fall into or the greater torture he may have to endure through the loss of his tail. Scores of horses, discarded by the cruel idiots who docked them, can be seen in any city any day, hauling hucksters' or ragmen's carts, belonging to men who could not, if they had the disposition, give them clean stables or fly nets to protect them from their annoying and pain-inflicting enemies. Poor, abused, helpless beasts they are, deprived of the only one comfort or satisfaction they might enjoy if their former brutal owners had not mutilated them at the beck of the idiotic thing called fashion. If the dockers of horses do not get their just deserts in this world or the next, it will look as if there is a serious defect in the machinery of God's providence. — Farm, Stock and Home.

(From the Epworth Herald, Chicago.)

ONE OF A THOUSAND.

Our Dumb Animals, the organ of the American Humane Education Society, is a monthly periodical which no Christian young person can afford to ignore. The mercy and help sentiment which holds such a large place in our work should extend its help and sympathy to our dumb friends, so sadly mistreated and neglected. Junior superintendents would find this beautiful little paper very helpful. Write Geo. T. Angell, 19 Milk street, Boston, for sample copies.

Horses are not deaf.

POOR FISH IN OUR FISH MARKETS.

Listener, in Boston Evening Transcript, says: "In Rhode Island alone there are about 150 pounds where fish caught are kept confined before they are sent to market.

"The effect on the fish of keeping them so confined is something to take away the appetite. The fish grow poor; often their gall bladders burst, and the flesh becomes discolored. Then their noses become almost raw from constant rubbing against the net in their efforts to find escape; their tails break off from the same cause, and many die from the effects of overcrowding and starvation.

Fishermen do not like to eat "pounded" fish, neither do the fish-market men. There is not sufficient food for them, and they become so hungry that they eat not only the little fish which find their way into the pound, but their smaller fellow-prisoners.

[As our readers know, the flesh of all animals that suffer severely before dying becomes more or less poisonous to those who eat it.]

Geo. T. ANGELL.

Don't hire or ride behind a poor looking, or high-checked or dock-tailed horse. Always look at the horses and tell drivers why you do it.

In cold weather blanket your horses while stopping.

"OUR DUMB ANIMALS."

We believe no other paper in the world goes, as "Our Dumb Animals" does every month, to the editorial rooms of every newspaper and maga- zine in America north of Mexico, and we believe that no paper in the world is more seldom thrown into the waste-basket unread.

IT GOES EACH MONTH TO

All members of our two Humane Societies. Several thousands of business firms and men. All Massachu- setts clergy, Protestant and Roman Catholic. All Massachusetts lawyers, physicians, bank presidents and cashiers, postmasters, school superintendents, large numbers of writers, speakers and teachers through the State. About 500 of the Society's agents in almost every Massachusetts city and town.

"Bands of Mercy" through the State. Many sub- scribers and others through the State. The Boston police. The Massachusetts legislature. Hundreds of coachmen, drivers and teamsters. The editors of all Massachusetts newspapers and other publications. Many newspaper reporters.

All our Humane Societies throughout the entire world. Large numbers of subscribers in our own and foreign countries. Thousands of our Bands of Mercy in our own and other countries. Members of our National Congress. Presidents of all American Colleges and Universities north of Mexico. Writers, speakers, teachers, and many others in various States and Ter- ritories. The editors of over twenty thousand Ameri- can publications, including all in our own country and British America.

Of these over twenty thousand we have good reasons for believing that not less than nineteen thousand, and perhaps more, are read either by editors or by their wives and children.

Don't forget your cat.
